

Don't feel comfortable over there by the windows and the mineral water. The secretaries keep walking by, they're David's I think his name is. • How long does it take for a red pen to run out, some people use black all the time, they write their drafts with pencils. • I'd kill to be in the Olympics with tight pants and slender arms, every morning I see one like that walk by me without breathing almost. • Perhaps English really is a prideful language. • Ne me quitte pas, darling, ne me quitte pas - good song, makes me feel like falling in love and leaving the minute its over, just like that for no reason. • 9:22, ok, three more minutes in the lift. • French toast early in the morning makes you sick, the sugar with the oil and bread, lucky science is making progress and teaching us about healthy bodies. • "Do you believe in love after all, Do you believe in love after love or after all..."

